

Web Enabled Image Extension System

Abstract

The Web Enabled Image Extension (WEIX) system provides extended access to patient medical scan images from the capabilities of traditional Computer Imaging systems . The WEIX system employs a Secure Web Server with add-on modules to provide a variety of user-level access. The WEIX system leverages this user-level access to create a type of workflow process to allow the diagnosis, dictation, transcription, and report release for medical scan procedures.